KP: Wot?

V/O: The weather?

KP: Oh yeah! Well we've had some tornadoes right

PETE: No! We haven't, they've had 'em in the States.

KP: Yeah well it's the same innit.

PETE: No it isn't. They say tornado.

KP: That's what I said. Tornadoes.

PETE: Yeah. You said tornadoes and I said tornado.

KP: Just ignore him everyone. Why don't you go and pluck the kids or someing. Anyway. I watched the video right and what I don't get is ... why don't they build their houses out of like bricks and stuff instead of like balsa wood and polystyrene ?

PETE: What, like, cos it's America babes.

KP: So?

PETE: So they probably don't have bricks there do they 'cos ... they're in the third world.

KP: What? What's that?

PETE: Well it's like our world yeah but without any pop music and towels and stuff.

KP: Well where's the second world then?

PETE: There ain't one Babes

KP: Ain't you never heard of the second world war you plonker? That must have been really sad for the people livin' there.

PETE: Not as sad as having tornadoes knock your house over.

KP: See, I said it was tornadoes didn't I! Right again!

PETE: Yeah all right. Have you seen my Ylang Ylang?

KP: Well go and answer the door then, Lazy.

PETE: Eh?
